

MISSION STATEMENT

Creating innovative solutions for safer working environments

Made in Australia

With an unwavering commitment to safety and quality, Verge takes pride in producing their range of safety barriers in-house.

By keeping the production process within our facilities, we ensure complete control over every aspect of manufacturing, from design to final production. This approach enables us to maintain superior quality standards and offer tailored solutions that meet specific customer requirements.

Comprehensive range

Verge Safety Barriers stands out as the exclusive manufacturer of the most comprehensive range of safety barriers across Australasia.

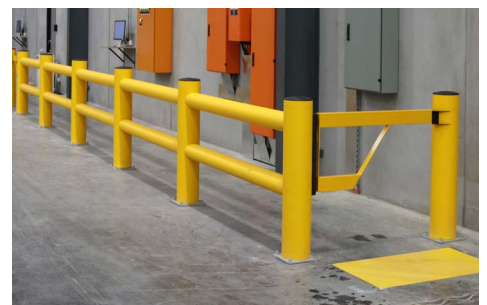

With an unmatched range, which incorporates both steel and polymer safety barriers, Verge are committed to providing the best solution for every application.

National network

Our network of qualified installers extends across all areas of Australia and New Zealand. This allows us to work with national clients on rollout projects ensuring we can offer a complete supply and installation service for any works anywhere!

Tested and certified

Verge Safety Barriers have tested a comprehensive range of warehouse barrier solutions to mirror real life conditions of Australian warehouses! We are pleased to confirm we have received certification for both our steel and polymer barriers!

Speak to our consultants to discuss your project requirements now.